Overview

A school-parent compact serves as a written commitment that encompasses the collective responsibility of the school, the parent/guardian, and the student in facilitating a child's learning journey. This toolkit has been devised to assist in evaluating a school's adherence to legal obligations concerning compacts.

Under Title I, Part A, each school is mandated to collaboratively develop a school-parent compact in conjunction with parents/guardians whose children are enrolled in Title I, Part A programs. This compact acts as a written agreement that delineates the specific activities parents/guardians, school staff, and students will undertake to jointly assume the responsibility for enhancing student academic achievement. Moreover, it outlines a framework for fostering a partnership between parents/guardians, school staff, and students, aiming to support children in attaining the State's rigorous academic standards.

Viewed both as a requirement for schools receiving Title I, Part A funding and as an opportunity for collaboration, the school-parent compact serves as a conduit for conveying shared goals, expectations, responsibilities, visions, and best practices between teachers and families. By establishing a binding agreement between the school and home, the compact fosters a collaborative environment to work harmoniously towards the betterment of the child.

Required Content

According to of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Section 1116(d), the school-parent compact should outline:

- The school's responsibilities:
 - High-quality curriculum & instruction, and
 - A supportive & effective learning environment
 - Opportunities for parents to volunteer in their child's classroom
 - Opportunities for parents to participate, as appropriate, in decisions relating to:
 - The education of their children and
 - The positive use of extracurricular time.
- The parent/guardian's responsibilities:
 - Ways in which they will support their child's learnings,
 - Volunteering in their child's classroom,
 - Participating, as appropriate, in decisions relating to:
 - The education of their children, and
 - Positive use of extracurricular time.
- The student's responsibilities:
 - ESSA, Section 1116 does not specify what the student's responsibilities are. This needs to be determined by campuses via their Comprehensive Needs Assessment (CNA) or other methods.
- Addresses the importance of on-going communication between teachers & parents/guardians, including:
 - Annual Conferences (elementary schools must discuss their school-parent compact),
 - Frequent progress reports,
 - Access to staff, volunteering opportunities, classroom observations, and
 - Regular two-way, meaningful communication (in a language family understands).

The School-Parent Compact can be a component of the Campus Parent and Family Engagement (PFE) Policy, as shown on page 14 of this Toolkit resource.

WHAT IS A SCHOOL-PARENT COMPACT?

A school-parent compact serves as a conduit for conveying shared goals, expectations, responsibilities, visions, and best practices between teachers and families. By establishing a binding agreement between the school and home, the compact fosters a collaborative environment to work harmoniously towards the betterment of each child.

JOINTLY DEVELOPED WITH PARENTS/GUARDIANS

The school-parent compact was developed through collaborative efforts among parents/guardians, students, and staff. Teachers actively engaged with their subject area teams to devise practical strategies for parents/guardians to implement at home. Valuable feedback from parents/guardians regarding their needs in supporting their students was provided. Additionally, students contributed their ideas as well which were incorporated into the compact.

To ensure its effectiveness, annual meetings are conducted to assess and modify the compact based on the school's academic achievement goals and the evolving needs of the students. Parents/guardians are encouraged to offer feedback on the compact throughout the school year, with all input being collected and reviewed during the yearly revision meeting with parents/guardians. For more information on the school-parent compact, please feel free to contact us at 123-456-7890 or visit our website at www.exampleschool.edu.

Evaluation Process Summary

- Review: A strong family engagement plan consists of thoughtful, culturally responsive, and equity-centered strategies that are grounded in feedback from both caregivers and educators.
 - At the beginning of the school year, it is best practice to set up a parent advisory board to help with organizing, planning, reviewing, and improving parent and family engagement (PFE) programs and documents [ESSA, Section 1116(a)(2)(F)]. If you evaluated the program and documents the previous year, use that data to revise the program for the new year. If you did not evaluate the program last year, discuss ways to evaluate it as soon as possible — by the end of September would be best. Including all stakeholders will bring higher success and is required by law [ESSA, Section 1116(a)(3)(D)(i and iv)]. Therefore, a parent advisory board could include but is not limited to:
 - Educators,
 - Parents/Guardians,
 - City entities such as the public library, fire department, police department, etc.,
 - Local specialty businesses such as dairies, factories, mills, etc., and/or
 - Local eateries and shops.
 - Review the needs of parents, the barriers of further involvement as well as strategies to support successful school and family interactions [ESSA, Section 1116(a)(2)(D)(i-iii)]. Determine the demographics of your community and use these findings to design evidence-based strategies for more effective parental involvement, as well as revisions needed in the PFE policy and/or school-parent compact. It is best practice to create SMART goals for the school year. SMART goals are Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant, and Time-bound.
- Plan & Update: The planning process is critical! Policies, compacts, and programs that are planned well are more likely to succeed.
 - Conduct the annual meeting in the fall with at least two attendance options. Be sure these two options are on different days and different times of day in order to maximize attendance of parents. Parents of all participating children must be invited and encouraged to attend. Their feedback should also be collected. If a parent does not attend one of the meetings, reach out to them, provide the information, see if they have any questions, and listen to their thoughts. Be sure to keep documentation such as sign in sheets, flyers, emails, posts to websites, agendas, meeting minutes, etc. [ESSA, Section 1116(c)(1-2)].

- Planning ways to overcome barriers such as family efficacy, school climate and culture, language, funding, time, technology, and space will help the program run smoothly by being proactive. Plan ways to make parent attendance feasible such as possibly providing transportation or childcare [ESSA, Section 1116(a)(2)(D)(i-iii) & (c)(2)].
- Involve parents in the planning of all Title I, Part A activities and meetings throughout the year [ESSA, Section 1116(a)(1)]. Be sure to provide timely information about PFE events, a description and explanation of the curriculum in use at the school, the types of academic assessments used, and the achievement levels of the STAAR test. If a parent wants to meet at any point during the school year, be sure to set up a meeting as soon as possible [ESSA, Section 1116(c)(4)(A-C)]. To build capacity for involvement, the LEA and campus must:
 - Aid parents in understanding assessments, the requirements of those assessments, and how to monitor a child's progress and work with educators to improve the achievement of their children,
 - Provide materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their achievement, such as literacy training and using technology,
 - Educate teachers, personnel, principals, school leaders, and other staff on the value and utility of parent contributions. This includes how to reach out to them, communicate with and work with parents as equal partners, implement and coordinate parent programs, and build ties between parents and the schools (Parents should assist in this training),
 - Coordinate and integrate PFE programs and activities with other programs,
 - Ensure that information related to PFE is sent to parents and children in a format and language the parents can utilize and understand, and
 - Provide other support as requested from parents [ESSA, Section 1116(e)(1-5 & 14)].

3. Deliver: Although some parents may want to be involved in projects or committees, they may lack the time, resources, or social capital to engage.

- Hold each of the activities and meetings mentioned above throughout the year.
- Be sure to keep documentation such as sign in sheets, flyers, emails, posts to websites, agendas, meeting minutes, etc.
- Best practices also involve:
 - Training parents in the development of training for educators and other parents,
 - Paying reasonable and necessary expenses associated with PFE activities, such as transportation and childcare costs, so parents can attend meetings and trainings,
 - Adopt and implement model approaches from other schools (the PFE statewide initiative holds virtual best practices expos for free throughout the school year), and
 - Developing appropriate roles in PFE activities for community-based organizations and businesses [ESSA, Section 1116(e)(6-13)].

4. Compile Feedback: Conducting... family surveys is one way to collect robust data that can elevate family voices and experiences.

- At the end of each PFE event, have participants fill out evaluations to collect both qualitative and quantitative feedback. Adjust the following events, as well as the PFE policy and school-parent compact as needed.
- Investigate into why other parents did not attend by following up with phone calls, emails, and/or home visits. Ask them what the school can do to ensure effective parent involvement. Remember our goal is to get EVERY parent engaged.

- Then after the campus's final planned PFE event, conduct a final evaluation of the entire program, the LEA and campus PFE policies, and the school-parent compact. Be sure to address and evaluate:
 - Barriers to greater participation by parents,
 - The needs of parents and family members, and
 - The strategies used to support successful school and family interactions [ESSA, Section 1116(a)(2)(D)(i-iii)].
 - Be sure the evaluation is available in a format and language all stakeholders can utilize and understand [ESSA, Section 1116(b)(1)].
5. Analyze Data: Evaluating parent and family engagement can be a complicated effort... Leaders face two key questions, "How should we define parent and family engagement?" and "Using that definition, how can we measure parent and family engagement?"
- A best practice is to get the parent advisory board together to analyze the data for all events, as well as the overall program and documents.
 - Create SMART goals for next year's program, events, and documents.
 - If any member of the parent advisory board is not present, be sure to reach out to them and get their feedback.
 - Be sure to keep documentation such as sign in sheets, flyers, emails, posts to websites, agendas, meeting minutes, etc.
6. Report & Strategize: Community collaboration contributes to family engagement.
- Use the findings of all event evaluations and the overall program evaluation to design strategies to be used for events next year as well as to revise, as needed, the LEA and campus PFE policies and school-parent compact [ESSA, Section 1116(a)(2)(E)].
 - Report the findings to the committees that are charged with updating the CIP and/or DIP, so that they can be considered during the revisions to those plans.
